

Hall of Flame
Iowa State Fair
August 9 – 19, 2007

As summer is just around the corner, it is time again to think of the fun that comes with that season. Of course I am talking about the Iowa State Fair and the Hall of Flame.

Last year the newly renovated Hall of Flame was unveiled. This was truly an amazing project. What a great opportunity for public education! Whether kids are driving the fire truck, practicing crawling through the smoke house or talking to Sparky, they are learning invaluable lessons for life.

As the new coordinator for the Hall of Flame, I am going to change things slightly to better serve requests from our volunteers. I am asking that volunteers pick either morning (0900 to 1300) or afternoon (1300 to 1700) shift to work. The Polk County Fire Departments will continue to cover the evening shifts. Each volunteer will receive a ticket into the fair as usual. Since the shirts were a hit last year, it will be continued for this year. IFA just asks that the shirt be worn while on duty in the booth.

If your department volunteers as a whole, you may have one person be the point of contact. If your department does not volunteer but you would still like to be apart of this wonderful opportunity, I am happy to work with you individually to schedule a time that works best for you.

Please email or call me with the date and shift that works best for you or your department.

Thank you in advance,
